

FRIENDS'
ALMANAC
FOR THE YEAR
1846,

BEING THE SECOND AFTER LEAP YEAR.

CONTAINING

The Rising, Setting, Southing, Places, and Eclipses of the Sun and Moon; the Phases and Age of the Moon; the Rising, Setting and Southing of the most conspicuous Planets and fixed Stars; Equation of Time; the Sun's Declination;

Planetary Places in right Ascension and Declination; the Time of High Water at Philadelphia, &c.

Also, an account of the times and places of holding the Meetings of Friends on the Continent of America.

Astronomical Calculations for the 40th degree of N. latitude and adapted to the Meridians of

New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Cincinnati.

NOTES TO THE READER.

I. The astronomical calculations in this work, are made to true clock time, the same as in the United States Almanac, the North American Almanac, and other Standard works. The effects of Refraction, according to the latest improved Tables of Bessel, and the Equation of Time have both been applied to the times of the Sun's rising and setting: so that the Sun, the Almanac, and a good Clock, will agree the year round.

II. A Time Piece may be set very nearly true by the rising, setting, or southing of the Sun, Moon or Stars,—but more accurately by the Sun, (or the southing of the Sun, or a fixed Star) any where on or near the 40th degree of north latitude.

III. The time of the rising, setting, or southing of a fixed Star may be carried several days forward by subtracting, or backward by adding 4 minutes per day.

IV. The common day of 24 hours, begins at midnight, and morning (marked morn.) continues from midnight till noon; and afternoon (marked aft.) continues from noon till midnight; this should be remembered carefully when looking for the times of the rising, setting or southing of the Moon or Stars soon after midnight.

E C L I P S E S .

In the year 1846 there will be only two Eclipses, and both of the Sun.

I. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun will occur on the 25th of the Fourth Month, visible as follows:

Beginning	10	45	A. M.	Mean time at Philadelphia.
Greatest obscuration	12	7 $\frac{1}{2}$	P. M.
End		1	30	P. M.

Digits Eclipsed 7 on the Sun's southern limb. This Eclipse will be annular and central in the southern parts of Mexico and in the western parts of Africa; at these and other intermediate parts of the Earth's surface where the central line of the Eclipse passes, a luminous Ring of 8 seconds in breadth will be visible around the Moon's surface, exhibiting a phenomenon similar to that witnessed in our middle states in the Ninth Month, 1838. This will be the largest Eclipse visible in North America until the 26th of the Fifth Month, 1854, when at about 7 o'clock, P. M. the Sun will be 10 digits eclipsed, or about five-sixths of his disc obscured.

II. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun will occur on the 20th of Tenth Month, at 2 h. 49 m. in the morning—consequently invisible to us. This Eclipse will be visible and annular near the southern coast of Guinea.

☞ Venus (♀) will be Evening Star until the 2nd of 3rd month, then Morning Star until the 18th of 12th month, after which it will be Evening Star until the 29th of 9th month, 1847.

☞ Venus and Mercury only are called Morning and Evening Stars; they are never in (♂) with the Sun, because their motions are wholly within the Earth's orbit.

EPOCHS OF 1846.

Dominical Letter	E	Julian Period	6559

Roman Indiction		3

The Moon and the Weather.—Dr. Lardner in his fourth lecture, declares unequivocally that "the changes of the moon have not the least effect upon the state of the weather." This will be sad news for our weather wise people.

SPRING.

The beautiful serenity of Spring, mild in its gentle aspect, sweet in its warm breath, and inspiring in its rich perfumes, conveys a lesson to man, which if seen by eyes of purity, would exalt him to the perfection of his nature. A Spring morning illustrates what ought to be the early life of our youth—fresh with the dews of heaven, sparkling with beams of light, and rich with the gems of beauty. It tells us, in language eloquent with love, of the bliss of innocence—the sweets of temperance—the fruits of labour—and the joys of love. The pervading loveliness of the smiling morn of Spring speaks every where—from every plant, and every blossom, and every brook, whose babbling music helps to swell the chant of gladness to the charms of nature—of the beauty and bliss of temperance. Every flower glitters with a humid gem—every leaf is loaded with a sparkling drop of love—every blossom trembles with the rapture of a joy-tear. It is as if nature had been weeping away the night, for the absence of her spouse the sun—who now, with glowing eyes, returns to cheer her with the smiles of love. How beautiful the soft embrace of early morn! How rapturous the wakening melody of love from every grove, as the soft chorus rings its melody on the innocent and pure heart.

THE WEATHER.

Many people consider an Almanac incomplete that make no mention of the weather. It is however a fact that there is no rule to make any predictions about it, without exceptions; for now whilst I am writing this introductory article to the following Table it is raining, and has been raining for several days, though by the Table we should have had fair weather. We invite our readers to the observations of Solomon, believing them to be better than anything since discovered on the subject. See Ecelesiastes, eleventh chapter. But for the gratification of some of our readers we introduce the following, as it was handed to us by one of our friends.

TABLE

For foretelling the Weather, through all the Lunations of each year.

This Table and the accompanying remarks are the result of many years' actual observation; the whole being constructed on a due consideration of the attraction of the sun and moon, in their several positions respecting the earth, and will, by simple inspection, show the observer what kind of weather will most probably follow the entrance of the moon into any of its quarters, and that so near the truth as to be seldom found to fail.

If the new moon, the first quarter, the full moon, or the last quarter happens	IN SUMMER.	IN WINTER.
Between midnight and 2 in the morning.	Fair	Hard frost, unless the wind be south or west.
— 2 and 4 morning.	Cold, frequent showers.	Snow and stormy.
— 4 and 6 "	Rain.	Rain.
— 6 and 8 "	Wind and rain.	Stormy.
— 8 and 10 "	Changeable.	Cold rain, if wind be west.
— 10 and 12 "	Frequent showers.	Snow, if east.
At 12 o'clock at noon, and 2, P. M.	Very rainy.	Cold, and high wind.
Between 2 and 4, P. M.	Changeable.	Snow or rain.
— 4 and 6 "	Fair.	Fair and mild.
— 6 and 8 "	Fair, if wind north-west	Fair and frosty, if wind north or north-east.
— 8 and 10 "	Rainy, if south or S. W.	Rain or snow if S. or S.W.
— 10 and midnight,	Ditto.	Ditto.
	Fair.	Fair and frosty.

Observations.—The nearer the time of the moon's change to noon or midnight, the more nearly will the result accord with the prediction.

It is also said that less dependence is to be placed on the Table in winter than in summer.

INDIAN ANECDOTE.

Both penetration and judgment on the part of the Indians, in matters of religion, are very evident, in the following authentic narrative.

Two Presbyterian ministers under the patronage of Princeton College of New Jersey, were chosen by the Missionary Society to propagate the gospel among the Creek Indians; and, in order to give weight to this embassy, several members of Congress accompanied the ministers unto this Indian nation.

When these ministers, with their retinue, and a number of Bibles which they took with them for the use of the people, arrived, a conference was held with some of the Indian chiefs, in which it was agreed that the Indians should call a Council. When assembled, they were informed by the Embassy, that they had brought two ministers of the gospel, to preach the gospel of salvation unto them, and that they were provided with a number of books which would teach them the way to heaven.

The Indians after a pause said, they would consider of the proposal. The ministers proposed preaching; but the Indians signified they must first consider the subject, for which they took fourteen days. When the time of Council was expired, they enquired of the members of Congress, if they had any dark people among them—whether they preached the gospel of salvation unto them—whether they gave them those good books which would teach them the way to heaven—whether they treated them as brethren or as slaves. Being answered in the negative, the Indians replied:—"Go home and preach the gospel of salvation unto them—give them those good books which would teach them the way to heaven—treat them as brethren and not as slaves—and then come and preach unto us." In consequence of this unexpected advice, the whole company returned; and one of the members on this embassy hav-

Him, though you have little to leave them, yet will the Lord provide for them. And if they do not love, fear, and serve God, much outward riches will do them no good; but they will be hurt by it, as we may see many are at this day, who had outward riches left them by their parents; who were not trained up by their parents in the pure fear of the Lord; and so, it had been better for them, that they had never had it.

"And, all Friends every where, keep in the pure Spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ, which will keep you all meek, and truly lowly and humble in heart and mind; that your adorning may not be that of putting on of rich or costly apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible; even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price."

PRAISE THE LORD," &c. Ps. calvin.

ANON.

Praise the Lord, whose mighty wonders
Earth, and air, and seas display;
Him, who high in tempests thunders,
Him, whom countless worlds obey:
All ye works of God, adore him,
Him, who made you by his word;
Heaven, exulting shout before him;
Earth, in concert praise the Lord.

In the eastern skies ascending,
Praise him, glorious orb of day;
Ocean, round the globe extending,
Praise him o'er thy boundless way.
Pines, that crown the lofty inmountains,
Bow, in sign of worship bow:
All ye secret springs and fountains,
Warble praises, as ye flow.

Beasts thro' nature's drear dominions,
Praise him, where the wilds extend:
Praise him, birds, whose soaring pinions
Up to heaven's gate ascend.

Man below, the lord of nature,
 Angel quires in realms above,
 Hymning, praise the great Creator,
 Praise the eternal fount of Love.

A BIRTH-DAY THOUGHT.

Can I, all gracious Providence!
 Can I deserve thy care?
 Ah no: I've not the least pretence
 To bounties which I share.

Have I not been defended still
 From dangers and from death;
 Been safe preserved from every ill,
 E'er since thou gavest me breath?

I live once more to see the day
 That brought me first to light;
 O teach my willing heart the way
 To take thy mercies right.

Tho' dazzling splendor, pomp, and shew,
 My fortune has denied;
 Yet more than grandeur can bestow,
 Content hath well supplied.

No strife has e'er disturbed my peace,
 No mis'ries have I known:
 And that I'm blest with health and ease,
 With humble thanks I own.

I envy no one's birth or fame,
 Their titles, train, or dress;
 Nor has my pride e'er stretch'd its aim
 Beyond what I possess.

I ask and wish, not to appear
 More beauteous, rich, or gay;
 Lord! make me wiser every year,
 And better every day.

Although the testimony of JUDGE HALE, to the inward and invisible guidance of the Spirit of God was published in Friends' Almanac some years since, yet as it contains such excellent sentiments, it was thought worthy of being again republished.

JUDGE HALE'S TESTIMONY

Of the Inward and Invisible Guidance of the Spirit of God.

They that truly fear God have secret guidance from a higher wisdom than what is barely human, namely, "The Spirit of Truth and Wisdom," that doth really and truly, but secretly, prevent and direct them. Any man that sincerely and truly fears Almighty God, relies upon him, and calls upon him for his guidance and direction, hath it as really as a son hath the counsel and direction of his father; and though the voice be not audible, nor the direction always perceptible or discernible to sense, yet it is equally as real as if a man heard the voice, saying, "This is the way, walk in it."

And the secret direction of Almighty God is principally seen in matters relating to the good of the soul, yet it may also be found in the concerns of the body, which a good man that fears God and begs his direction, shall very often, if not at all times, find.

I can call my own experience to witness that, even in the external actions of my whole life, I was never disappointed of the best guidance and direction, when I have in humility and sincerity, implored the secret direction and guidance of the Divine Wisdom.

The observance of the secret admonition of the Spirit of God in the heart, is an essential means to cleanse and sanctify thy heart, and the more it is attended unto, the more it will be conversant with thy soul for thy instruction.—In the midst of thy difficulties it will be thy counsellor; in the midst of thy temptations it will be thy strength, and grace sufficient for thee; in the midst of thy troubles it will be thy light and thy comforter: only beware thou neglect not the voice of the Spirit; it may be thy neglect may quench it, and thou mayst never hear that voice more.

It is impossible for thee to enjoy that which must make thee happy, till thou art deeply sensible of thy own emptiness and nothingness, and thy spirit thereby brought down and laid in the dust. The spirit of Christ is an humbling spirit; the more thou hast of it the more it will humble thee; and it is a sign that either thou hast it not, or that it is yet overmastered by thy corruptions, if thy heart be still haughty.

Watch, therfore, the secret persuasions and dissuasions of the Spirit of God, and beware thou quench it not, nor grieve it; be sure thou observe this voice—this wind, that blows where it listeth; if shut out, resisted, or grieved, may haply never breathe upon thee again; but leave thee to be hardened in thy sins; but if observed and obeyed, thou shalt be sure to have it thy monitor and director upon all occasions; when thou goest out it will lead thee—when thou sleepest it will keep thee, and when thou awakest it will talk with thee.

These are faithful, weighty, and true sayings—happy are those that witness them so to be.

Farmers make your own Candles.—Take two pounds of alum for every ten pounds of tallow; dissolve it in water before the tallow is put in, and then melt the tallow in the alum water with frequent stirring, and it will clarify and harden the tallow so as to make a most beautiful article for either winter or summer use—almost as good as sperin.

Candles that do not require Snuffing.—Candles may be made to burn their own wicks by saturating them with a strong solution of nitre, and then thoroughly drying them. The cause of the wicks refusing to burn is, that the air can not get access to them. The nitre, however, at a high temperature, will supply oxygen enough for that purpose.

Eggs and Poultry.—In the three years ending with 1843, upwards of 250,000,000 of eggs were imported into England, and in two years the value of foreign poultry brought in, living and dead, was £600,000.
